Issue No. 1,054

Outbowlers, Back Lane Bowlers, Bowling Ballers and Woodenspooners are the Memorial Cup giant killers.

Last week saw the first round of the Memorial cup in this years schedule and with the handicap system, it provided a few shock results. It was pleasing to hear that a few fixtures honoured our lost friends with a minutes silence around the table before the match especially on hearing that our former chairman, Jim Leak had sadly passed away.

The Outbowlers took on and beat the Monty Queues who are a division higher than them and now play the Misfits in the next round. The Back Lane Bowlers took on the Red Lion who play in a division above them and just about clung on to their two frame handicap, finally beating them 5-4. Former Premiership side, Bowling Ballers visited The Sws and came away with a win whilst the third division battle between lowly Woodenspooners and third placed Monty Melts resulted in an away win for the Sportsman side.

The BullnHeifer made premiership side Misfits work hard for their final frame win ending 5-4. The Jockey B demolished premiership rival Teasers 5-0 whilst it appears that Llanbadarn gave their match to the Courthouse Jury. The Talbot Tigers overcame what could have been a very tricky match against runaway leaders of division two by beating the Jesters 6-2.

All of the other matches seemed to go with the form book, with all of last Sundays winners now playing round two on Thursday 2nd January 2025. League fixtures resume again on Sunday 5th Jan.

Jim Leak our former chairman passes away

The death of Jim Leak has saddened the whole of Newtown Pool League, but particularly hit the older players who fondly remember Jim as the Landlord of the Castle Vaults and later the Waggon & Horses. Jim didn't come alone though, he had a very committed wife in Sue, who pre-deceased him in 2021.

Jim was instrumental in starting our Pool League in 1983 as he joined forces with the Grapes Hotel Landlord, Roy Nuttall to recruit teams. Roy was elected inaugural Chairman and Jim as Vice Chairman. A couple of years later, Roy moved away from Newtown and Jim took over as Chairman. By that time, the Castle Vaults was already the headquarters of the Pool League and had the top two sides in Castle A and Castle B. Sue Leak contributed greatly to the running of the League, by being responsible for taking the weekly team subscriptions behind the bar in the Castle.

Jim was also responsible for getting the League off to the brightest possible start by getting sponsorship from pool table operators, Associated Leisure. Jim's position as a well known publican meant he had access to all the right people and secured free use of the Elephant & Castle function room to run the annual dance and presentations night which were, not only a good fundraiser, but very popular with the membership.

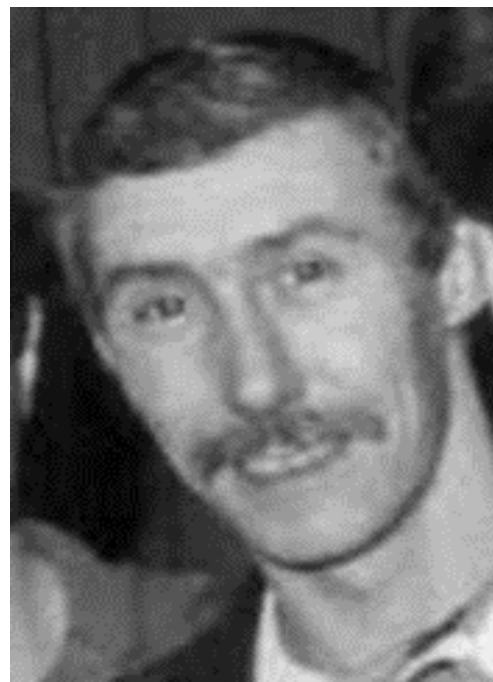

Jim and Sue were responsible for starting the Ladies league in the late 1980s which proved to be very competitive and secured the League Welsh international representation in Wendy Morris and Joanne Evans.

The older players will fondly remember the Shropshire Star tournament that was held for three years in the mid 1980s for which Jim & Sue voluntarily ran a bar in the Old Tech college over the two days of the tournament, raising big money for the League from the 128 entrants the tournament attracted.

Jim and Sue moved onto run the Waggon & Horses pub in Newtown and not much later, in 1993 they both emigrated to Tenerife, where they continued to live.

Jim was also well known as an accomplished footballer, competing with several football teams over his playing career.

Jim was a gentleman, a hugely popular character, married to a most resilient wife in Sue, who both contributed massively to the early success of our Pool League from which our current set-up grew. Rest in Peace Jim and our warm condolences go to their family.
